Subject: Daily Exception #8

Please note updates on the following spreadsheet.

If you update the Avg $ amount discounted on the spreadsheet, the equation will automatically re-compute. You still need to list a reason for the change.
If you update the AIM RJR or SIS RJR volume, the equation will automatically re-compute. You still need to list a reasons for the change.

Special Note to K.L. Myers: I am waiting for responses for Daily Exception Report #5, #6 and #7.
Special Note to T.A. McMahon: I am waiting for responses for Daily Exception Report #7.
Special Note to R.A. Ridge: I am waiting for responses for Daily Exception Report #6 and #7.

Any questions, please contact me.

The above means we are promoting over 100% of the RJR volume by account, during the time period listed.
Explanations are required from Management in one week's time. Less accounts will appear on report if Sales Rep keep the SIS RJR Volume updated.

Please write your explanation in the space provided and Email back to Amy's attention. If Average $ Amount listed is incorrect, please update the spreadsheet by plugging in the correct $ amount, and listing the update in the explanation section.

The higher volume (RJR SIS Volume or RJR AIM Volume) will be used.

If a draft was written by a Retail Rep in a Division that is not responsible for the Sales Rep in that account, the Division the Sales Rep is in will be responsible to explain the error.
